No. 76.—The procedure of returning the applications for commutation of pensions to the applicants and asking them to apply again in the beginning of the next official year causes hardship in some cases owing to the inevitable delay which occurs in the forwarding of the applications to Government next year and the consequent risk of funds being exhausted before the applications are actually received. The Government have therefore decided to register the applications as they are received and deal with them in the next year in the order in which they have been received in this department. The applications may therefore be forwarded to Government. Action will be taken on them if funds are available during 1925-26.

RESOLUTION.

Delhi, the 25th March 1925.

No D. 1259-F.—The Government of India have had under consideration the question of systematising the arrangements for administering the advances made by the Central to Provincial Governments. After consultation with the latter it has been decided to establish a central Fund out of which all advances granted by the Government of India to Provincial Governments will in future be made and to standardise for all Provinces alike the terms on which advances granted for various purposes will be repaid to the Fund.

2. The Fund shall be constituted as from the 1st April 1925 and shall be called the "Provincial Loans Fund". Rules governing the administration of this Fund will be promulgated by the Government of India.

3. All outstanding capital liabilities of Provincial Governments to the Government of India will be transferred to the Fund at the time of its constitution and this capital will be increased from time to time as required by further advances from the Government of India.

4. The rate of interest charged by the Government of India on advances to the Fund will be determined in the same manner as the rate of interest charged by the Government of India on advances to the Provinces is now determined, that is to say, on the basis of the cost of new borrowing to the Government of India from time to time.

5. If at any time there is a surplus in the capital of the Fund not required or not likely to be required at an early date for the purpose of new advances, the Fund shall be entitled to apply such surplus towards the reduction of advances previously made to it by the Government of India under such conditions as may be determined by the Government of India according to the circumstances of the case.

6. The terms already arranged between the Government of India and the Provinces in regard to any advances sanctioned prior to the constitution of the Fund will not be modified or affected in any way. The Fund will simply take the place of the Government of India as one of the parties to these contracts vis-à-vis the Provinces concerned.

7. The amount and the purpose of every advance which may be made by the Fund to a Provincial Government will be determined, as at present, by the Government of India in the Finance Department and the Assembly will be asked to vote the necessary supply under the head : "Advances to the Provincial Loans Fund". The receipts into, and disbursements from, the Fund will be recorded in the public accounts under a distinct head "Provincial Loans Fund".

8. Advances of less than Rs. 5 lakhs for any scheme or group of works will not normally be made from the Fund, as being excluded by the principal laid down in rule 2(a) of the Local Government (Borrowing) Rules which requires that the proposed expenditure shall be so large that it cannot reasonably be met from current revenues. The rules governing the grouping of individual works for the purpose of this paragraph shall be the same as the rules which govern the grouping of works in order to determine the authority which is competent to sanction the total expenditure.

The limit of Rs 5 lakhs, however, will not apply to capital expenditure (a) on productive works or (b) in a commercial department which is working at such a profit as to fulfil the test of productivity imposed by the Secretary of State or (c) on commercial undertakings whose accounts are maintained on a commercial basis.

9. No advances will be made out of the Fund to any Provincial Governments which do not provide annually out of their ordinary revenues sums sufficient to redeem within a period not exceeding 80 years from the date when they were originally borrowed any loans or advances which they may from time to time obtain or have obtained from any source other than the Fund. This condition, however, will not apply to the pre-Reforms irrigation debt referred to in paragraph 12.

10. The standard rate of interest charged by the Fund on new advances will be so calculated, after taking into account the repayments due to the Fund on already existing advances, as to maintain the solvency of the Fund.

11. The standard rate of interest will be charged by the Fund to the Provinces on all advances required for capital expenditure which can be classed as productive under the rules on the subject approved by the Secretary of State. For all other advances, the rate will be ½ per cent above the standard rate.

12. All new advances made from the Fund and also all advances outstanding at present other than the debt relating to irrigation works constructed before the Reforms, the liability for which was transferred to Provincial Governments under the Reforms Scheme, will be subject to eventual repayment. It will be for the Government of India in the Finance Department to determine whether in any particular case repayment shall be by equated instalments of principal and interest or otherwise, and whether due instalments may be postponed or other exceptional arrangements made without threatening the solvency of the Fund.

13. The Government of India in the Finance Department will maintain a schedule specifying the term of years appropriate to the repayment of advances required for various purposes and will communicate to all the Provinces any additions to or modifications of that schedule at the time when they are made.

14. In the event of its being necessary to write off any part of an advance as irrecoverable, the loss shall not fall on the Fund but shall be made the occasion of a special Demand Grant to be submitted to the Assembly.

15. The Government of India retain full power to refuse or suspend advances to the Fund and to modify the constitution of the Fund in any way, if the financial position of India makes it imperative that this should be done.

16. The existing rights of the Provinces to borrow otherwise than in the form of advances from the Government of India will not be impaired.

(iv) Thence along the northern, western and southern crests of the Silent Valley range to its southernmost point.

The following resolution of the Government of India is republished:—

RAILWAY DEPARTMENT.

RAILWAY BOARD.

Delhi, the 19th February 1925.

Financing of Branch Lines.

No. 2131-F.—The Governor-General in Council, with the sanction of His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, is pleased to issue the following orders on the subject of Financing of Branch Lines, in supersession of all previous orders on the subject.

1. Branch and Feeder Lines are constructed under an agreement by which the State guarantees a minimum return on the capital, or alternatively, undertakes that the line shall receive, out of the earnings of the main line from traffic contributed by the branch, such a sum, known as a rebate, as will make up the total earnings of the branch to a given sum, while the branch in each case shares with the main line any profits exceeding the guaranteed minimum.

2. This method of encouraging the construction of lines originated 30 years ago simply because the Government of India was unable to furnish the necessary capital.

3. The Acworth Committee pointed out that this method, while enabling lines to be built which would otherwise not have been built, has no other merit. The financial terms usual before the war are now quite inadequate and if the system is to continue they will have to be revised. All the witnesses before the Committee who asked for a revision of the terms admitted that, if the main line were in a position to build a given branch itself, they would prefer that it should be done by the main line rather than that it should be done as a separate undertaking.

4. Amongst the disadvantages pointed out by the Committee are the following:—

(i) The Branch Line Company is usually a fifth wheel to the coach. It implies in some cases a separate construction staff; it always implies a separate Board of Directors and separate accounts.

(ii) Where the branch is worked by the main line, if its Directors feel that the management is unsatisfactory, they not only make representations to the main line administration, but in the last resort can appeal to the Railway Board which does not make for harmony.

(iii) Capital raised by a small private undertaking, even with a Government guarantee, will cost more than money raised by the State.

(iv) Inconceivable confusion results from the multiplication of independent Railway Companies—each company, small or great, desires to reserve for itself a separate sphere of influence; and jealously demands that, if any new-comer intrudes into that sphere, he shall pay toll to the original concessionaire. This only complicates a situation which ought to be considered solely from the point of view of the public interest. New proposals for the extension or connexion of lines by small independent companies are either refused owing to protests by the old company or only permitted on a basis of elaborate accounting between the new company and the old for the profits which hypothetically would have belonged to the old line had the new line not been opened.

5. The only arguments urged in favour of the Branch Line Companies were—

(i) That money had been raised which the Government of India was unable to furnish.

(ii) That a claim was made that the Branch Line Company obtained from local sources money that would never be subscribed to a Government loan.

(iii) That there may be cases of a Branch Line of smaller gauge worked independently, which the Branch Line Company can operate more economically than a main line.

6. The Acworth Committee, therefore, so far from approving of the system, considered that the aim of the Government should be to reduce by amalgamation the number of existing companies and that it should only be in cases where the State cannot or will not provide adequate funds that private enterprise in this direction should be encouraged.

7. The disadvantages pointed out by the Acworth Committee require to be even further amplified. The existing Branch Line Companies have ceased for some time to raise additional capital for capital requirements. They have either obtained overdrafts from various Banks for this purpose at heavy rates of interest or issued debentures at special rates of interest (usually about 7 per cent) or in several cases asked for money to be advanced to them by the Railway Board. So far, therefore, from reducing the amount that the Government of India have to raise in the open market, they are at present increasing that amount.

8. Another serious disadvantage which is not mentioned by the Acworth Committee is that the main line usually works the Feeder or Branch Line for a remuneration which, in most cases, is limited to a maximum of a fixed percentage of the gross earnings of the Branch Line (usually 40 per cent or 50 per cent)—terms of remuneration which at present are grossly inadequate. The result of this arrangement is that many of the main lines whose working expenses are from 60 to 80 per cent of the gross earnings are saddled with heavy expenditure which ought to have been debited to Branch Line Companies. Where the Branch Line Companies are "successful," that is, where the shares stand at a high figure, their profits are inflated owing to their working expenses being thus artificially reduced. Again, where in the case of less "prosperous" Branch Line Companies the Government has to make a direct subsidy in order to make up the guaranteed interest on the capital, the amount paid by way of subsidy does not reveal the true loss of the Government in connexion with the Branch Line Company. To this subsidy should be added also the additional loss incurred from the main line working the Branch Line at less than the actual cost. Even this, however, does not give a complete statement of the loss sustained by Government in connexion with these Companies. These Companies have been supplied with land free of charge and the cost of such land is not taken into account either in the Capital or the Revenue Accounts of the Companies concerned.

9. The only real argument in favour of these Companies is that they must be utilised in cases where the Government itself is unable or declines to raise the necessary amount of capital for new constructions. It is doubtful whether such a position is likely to recur in the future. It is admitted that to use the agency of these Companies is a far more expensive method of raising money for the construction of railways than direct Government loans can ever be. The amount of assistance given by Branch Line Companies in the past has been trivial; the total amount of capital raised through the agency of Branch Line Companies has only been about Rs. 10½ crores—an amount which in itself is less than the lapse that occurred last year in the provision for capital expenditure in the Railway Budget.

10. The difficulties and complications now experienced in connexion with these Branch Line Companies are out of all proportion to the insignificant financial facilities offered by the Companies. The Government of India have therefore decided that the Branch line policy should be abandoned and that an endeavour should be made to reduce the number of the existing Branch Line Companies. If on any occasion the Government of India should be unable to find funds for construction (which is not the case at present) and should it be considered advisable to tap fresh sources for subscription to railway loans by offering terms different from those given to the ordinary Government loans, that is, by offering not only a fixed rate of interest but a share in the profits of a particular Branch Line, there appears to be no particular advantage of using a financial half-way house specially to float a loan on such terms; there appears to be no reason why the Government should not float the loan direct. But it will probably be found sufficient to raise short-term debentures at a high rate of interest—to be liquidated when the loan market is favourable—a procedure adopted now by the Branch Line Companies, but at a higher rate of interest than would be necessary for the Government.

11. There remains the case of the District Board Railways for which some of the capital or the security for the capital is secured by a special cess levied by the District Board throughout the district.

The Acworth Committee pointed out that where a District Board was the promoter of a new Branch Line, considerations other than purely commercial came into play with the result of further complications and confusion. In a footnote to the report they referred to the views expressed by the Madras Government who had drawn attention to a case in which, although no short-circuiting was involved, there had been a delay of over 10 years in arriving at a decision in regard to the terms for working a District Board Railway by the South Indian Railway Company. The amount of capital raised by District Boards for such lines has been only Rs. 137 lakhs, while the amount raised by Company lines subsidised by District Boards amounts to Rs. 2½ crores. These amounts are insignificant as compared with the total capital raised by the Government and it is clear that the relief afforded to the Government of India in raising the loans is quite disproportionate to the great complications which have resulted in the working of the railway administration. Loans raised direct by the District Boards do not relieve the market of the Government of India; the money is ultimately borrowed from the Government of India.

12. The legal position regarding the powers of District and Local Boards in the matter of Railway construction and management depends in part on the Indian Railways Act, 1890, which, in the absence of express exclusion of its application, extends to all District Board railways and, in part, on the nature of the provision made in the Materials the District or Local Boards Act of the province concerned. It is only in the Madras Presidency that the question has assumed prominence and it will suffice to indicate briefly the nature of the provisions contained in the Madras Local Boards Act, 1920. Action under section 113 of that Act can only be taken "with the previous sanction of the Government of India". Having obtained such sanction, a District Board may either itself construct and maintain a railway within, or partly within, the local area under the control of the Board, or may subscribe to any debenture loan raised by the Government of India or by any other local authority or by any company for the construction or maintenance of any railway which the Board considers likely to be of benefit to the district, or may guarantee the payment from the district fund of such sums as it shall think fit as interest on capital expended on any such railway (that is, whether the railway is constructed by the Government of India or by any other local authority or by a Company).

Section 238 of the same Act provides that the accumulations of a local railway cess may be utilised for all or any of the purposes specified in section 113, including the guaranteeing of payment of interest on capital spent on a railway.

A District Board in Madras, therefore, can guarantee the payment from the district fund of the money sufficient to make up the minimum interest on capital expended on a railway within its area whether such railway is constructed by the Government of India or by a Company, the only disadvantage attaching to this particular form of guarantee being that the Act does not make the payment of the guaranteed interest a first charge on the District Board Fund.

13. The Government of India could not reasonably use their powers under the Indian Railways Act, 1890, or under, e.g., section 113 of the Madras Local Boards Act, 1920, to prevent a District Board or a local body from constructing a light railway or a tramway which had no physical connexion with any existing main line and which that local body proposed to work itself or through a local company. But as things stand at present there is no reason for continuing the practice under which District Boards are allowed to make money out of Branch Lines connected with a main line when they themselves cannot make any arrangements for the working of the lines and require to have them run by the main lines.

14. These District Board railways must not be confused with the light and feeder railways which constitute a provincial subject under the Devolution Rules. The provincial subject in question comprises "light and feeder railways and extra-municipal tramways in so far as provision for their construction and management is made by provincial legislation". That is to say, it comprises only individual light or feeder railways or extra-municipal tramways for the construction and management of which specific provision has been made by an Act of the local legislature of the province concerned. Hitherto, no such legislation has been enacted with the result that the entry in question in the provincial schedule, as also the qualifying words in entry 5 (a) * in the central schedule, have no operation, and all existing railways of every description are included in the central subject defined in the last-named entry. It should also be observed that the provincial subject in question is "subject to legislation by the Indian Legislature in the case of any such railway or tramway which is in physical connexion with a main line or is built on the same gauge as an adjacent line," the effect being that a provincial bill designed to provide for the construction of a light or feeder railway or extra-municipal tramway in physical connexion with a main line or built on the same gauge as an adjacent main line would require the previous sanction of the Governor-General under clause (f) of sub-section (3) of section 80-A of the Government of India Act; and it may be presumed that few occasions are likely to arise in which provision will be made by local legislation for the construction of a light or feeder railway not answering one or other of these descriptions.

15. The proposals set forth in this Resolution are not designed to erode the legitimate operation of the legal position described, in the case of District Board railways, in paragraph 12 and in the case of provincial light and feeder railways, in paragraph 14, but it follows from the proposals that Local Governments and District or Local Boards should not, in the absence of special circumstances, be encouraged to build branch or feeder lines. In other words, the normal procedure will be the construction by the Government of India, or, at its cost, by a Company, of a branch line which a District Board or Local Government desires to have constructed and is prepared to guarantee. But, should the railway programme not permit the construction of such a line within a reasonable time, the possibility of permitting a District Board or Local Government to construct it from its own funds would require consideration.

Unremunerative Lines

16. The above proposals relate to the procedure adopted in the past and the procedure which it is proposed to adopt in the future for the financing of the construction of branch or feeder lines expected to prove remunerative from the point of view of railway earnings only. But there are cases where the Local Governments or local authorities may desire that a line should be constructed which will not be remunerative on railway earnings and the construction of which is desired by them for purely local reasons on account of the administrative advantages it is likely to confer or for the development of a particular area. It is proposed that in future the Railway Board in such circumstances should have power to arrange for the construction of the line from railway funds if the Local Government or the local authority guarantees the Railway Board against loss. The guarantee would be to the effect that the local authority would make up the difference between the net earnings and the interest and other charges payable. As it is not desirable that the Central Government should make any profit out of such contributions by local authorities, it is also proposed that where contributions have been made by a local authority for this purpose the repayment of such contributions should be a first charge on any net profits subsequently realized from the line should the line prove remunerative.

17. The Central Government must, however, retain the power to decide whether a line is to be built or not; the proposals in the preceding paragraph must not be taken to imply that a Local Government by giving a guarantee can require the Railway Board to construct a line. Proposals of a Local Government might run counter to the general railway policy or might take the form of short-circuiting railway traffic and so lead to a reduction of receipts from existing lines.

18. These proposals have been circulated to Local Governments and have been generally welcomed by them as affording a suitable method of reconciling central and local interests and of providing for local bodies and Local Governments a method of securing the construction of railways which may be required for purely local reasons, and which, while not likely to prove remunerative on purely railway earnings, are likely to provide such indirect benefits to Local Governments and local bodies as will more than repay the amounts paid under the guarantee. Several such arrangements have already been made with Local Governments.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

COTTON CROP OF 1924-25—FIFTH OR FINAL REPORT.

[On an average of the five years ending 1922-23, the area under cotton in the Madras Presidency has represented 11 per cent of the total area under cotton in India.]

The area sown with cotton in the Madras Presidency in 1924-25, is estimated at 2,897,900 acres against 2,866,100 acres in the February forecast report. The increases are mainly in Ramnad (7,500 acres) and Tinnevelly (11,000 acres).

The present estimate for the Presidency represents an increase of 3·0 per cent over the final area of 2,662,400 acres in 1923-24.

2. In the Coconadas tract, harvest has commenced and yields are normal. The late crop in the Deccan deteriorated further as the black soils dried up earlier than usual owing to the drought and low yields were obtained, especially in Bellary and Anantapur. In Salem, Coimbatore, and Trichinopoly, the crops have been affected by drought as well as the increase in insect pests. In the South, rains in March delayed the first pickings of early crops by a fortnight and some of this cotton will be stained. The rains have benefited the late crops and improved the prospects of summer pickings generally.

The seasonal factor for the Presidency works out at 94 per cent as against 89 per cent in the previous year. On this basis, the yield works out at 352,700 bales of lint against 433,800 bales in the previous year, an increase of 14 per cent and against an average of 479,500 bales.

3. The estimated area and yield under the several varieties are given below. Adequate data on which this distribution can be accurately based are not however available :—

Variety.	Area in acres	Yield in bales of 400 lb. lint.
Irrigated Cambodia	247,500	141,800
Dry Cambodia	192,500	37,100
Total, Cambodia ..	440,000	178,900
Tinnevelly including Karungani in Madura, Ramnad, and Tinnevelly.	619,900	161,400
Salems Karunganni of Coimbatore District (Uppam, Kudan, and Bourbon)	287,000	82,500
Northern and Western ..	1,813,000	128,300
Coconadas	291,000	48,000
Others	27,100	2,200

4. Detailed figures by districts and varieties are given in the annexed statement.

GINGELLY CROP OF 1924-25—FOURTH OR FINAL REPORT.

[On an average of the five years ending 1922-23, the area under gingelly in the Madras Presidency has represented 13·6 per cent of the total area under gingelly in India.]

The area sown with gingelly in 1924-25 is estimated at 755,400 acres as against the estimate of 652,200 acres made on the same date last year. The latter estimate fell short of the actually recorded area of 685,800 acres by six per cent. The estimate this year is 9 per cent above last year's actuals The area in an average year is estimated at 813,000 acres.

2. One hundred and sixty nine thousand eight-hundred acres have been reported as sown since the date of the previous forecast issued in January. These late sowings were mainly as wet lands in the Circars, Carnatic, and South where gingelly was raised as a second crop after paddy. The area thus shown was greater than in the previous year in Ganjam, Vizagapatam, Godavari, and Chingleput, where there was little or no rainfall after November but less in most of the other districts.

3. The main increase in the total sowings is in North Arcot, Salem, and Coimbatore, where gingelly was extensively sown as a dry crop in May and June.

4. Yields below normal are reported from Ganjam, Anantapur, South Arcot, Chittoor, North Arcot, Trichinopoly, and Tanjore. In Ganjam, the dry crop sown in June gave satisfactory yields; but the prospects of the crop sown in January are not satisfactory. The early crop in the other districts was affected to some extent by drought after sowing. The prospects of the late sown crops are fair. The rains of March were generally beneficial to the late sown crops. The seasonal factor for the Presidency works out to 89·6 per cent as against 92 per cent in 1923-24 and 97 per cent in 1922-23. On this basis, the crop of 1924-25 is estimated at 100,000 tons as against 88,150 tons in the previous year and an average yield of 109,900 tons.

5. Details by districts are given below.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 21st March 1925 :—

No. 25 of 1925.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Cotton Cess Act, 1923.

XIV of 1923. WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Cotton Cess Act, 1923, for the purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Indian Cotton Cess (Amendment) Act, 1925.

Amendment of section 8, Act XIV of 1923

2. In section 8 of the Indian Cotton Cess Act, 1923, for sub-section (2) the following sub-sections shall be substituted, namely :— XIV of 1923

"(2) In respect of cotton exported by land on which the cess is leviable—

(a) where the cotton is exported to any territory which is foreign territory as defined in the Land Customs Act, 1924, the cess shall be assessed by such authorities and in such manner as may be prescribed, and shall, subject to the provisions of this Act and of any rules made thereunder, for all or any of the purposes of the Land Customs Act, 1924, be deemed to be a duty of land customs leviable under section 5 of the Indian Tariff Act, 1894; and XIX of 1924. XIX of 1924. VIII of 1894.

(b) in any other case, the cess shall be assessed and levied by such authorities and in such manner as may be prescribed.

(3) The Central Board of Revenue constituted under the Central Board of Revenue Act, 1924, may make rules providing, on such conditions as may be specified in the rules, for— IV of 1924

(a) the refund of the cess levied where cotton is exported by land and subsequently imported into India; and

(b) the export by land, without payment of the cess, of cotton which is subsequently to be imported into India."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There is no provision in the Indian Cotton Cess Act, 1923 (XIV of 1923), as amended by Act I of 1924, for the refund of the cess levied on cotton exported from British India by land in case of its re-importation into India. About two-thirds of the cotton exported by land to Goa is re-imported into India, and it is considered that it is inequitable that no refund can be granted in such cases. The object of the amendment now proposed is to provide for refunds in such cases and to facilitate the shipping of cotton through Goa from one part of British India to another part of British India or to any Indian State.

The 20th February 1925. J. W. BHORE.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

CULTIVATION STATEMENT—APRIL 1924 TO JANUARY 1925.

(On an average of the five years ending 1923-24, the area sown from April to January represents 98 per cent of the cultivation on dry lands and 93 per cent of the cultivation on wet lands.)

General—January was characterised by bright weather except towards the middle of the month when moderate rains were received in Chingleput, South Arcot, the South, and the Nilgiris.

Irrigation water was generally sufficient in the month except in parts of Anantapur, Cuddapah, South Arcot, South Kanara, the Central districts, and the South.

Second crop paddy was transplanted or sown in the month in Godavari, Kistna, the Carnatic, Chittoor, North Arcot, Coimbatore, and Tinnevelly. Ragi was sown on wet lands outside the South and late gingelly in the Circars, South Arcot, and Trichinopoly.

2. April to January—Sowings—(a) Dry lands.—The area was five per cent more than the average and ten per cent more than in the last year. There were slight reductions in Kistna and South Kanara and general increases in most of the other districts especially Ganjam, Visagapatam, Nellore, Chittoor, North Arcot, Salem, and Trichinopoly.

(b) Wet lands.—The area exceeded the average and last year by four per cent. There was an appreciable reduction in area in the Cauvery delta and in South Kanara as a result of the July floods. There were slight reductions in Nellore, Coimbatore, and Madura. There was a fairly general increase in most of the other districts, especially the Circars, Anantapur, South Arcot, Chittoor, North Arcot, Salem, and Malabar.

3. Figures by districts are given in the statement appended.
